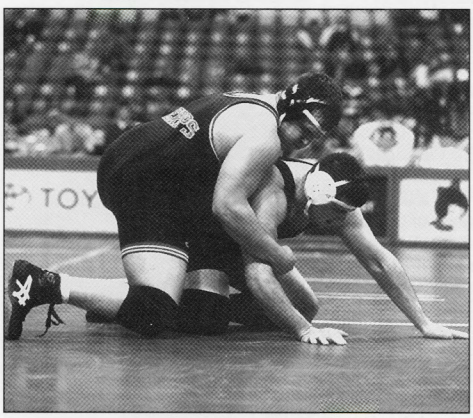
SEASON GLANCE

Season Outlook

The Terps are looking forward to the 1995-96 season with enthusiasm as eight lettermen return to anchor a deep squad. Leading the team will be senior captain Pat Flynn, who was the ACC Champion and an NCAA qualifier last year at 150 lbs. Two-time letterman James Guzzio, who redshirted last season, will also add strength and experience to the squad. The Terps are coming off a 14-3 season, which included finishing third in the ACC and qualifying four wrestlers for the NCAA tournament. In addition to their performance on the mats, the Terps were honored for their work in the classroom. The Terps were ranked No. 15 of the 25 teams that made the NWCA All-Academic team.

With only two seniors on the squad, the junior and sophomore classes will be asked to step up. Playing crucial roles in the Terps' success will be veterans Zack Fowl, Brent Layman, Jeff Whalen, Marty Margolis, Damon Stephens, Brian Layman, Arash Alizadeh and David Vernier. A host of newcomers, in the form of several transfers and freshmen, will give their teammates a challenge in their respective weight classes. Nonetheless, all of the Terps will have tough assignments, as they again have a challenging schedule, including an invitation to the prestigious Virginia Duels tournament.



David Vernier

Preview by Weight Class

118- Redshirt sophomore Zack Fowl, a Maryland state champion in high school, is the favorite. Fowl is an excellent technical wrestler with varsity experience last season. Other contenders include: Manhattan University transfer Tim Giambalvo, true freshman Lee Chernett and freshman Arman Taghizadeh, who finished fourth in last year's National Preps Tournament.

126- Returning letterman Luke Leary, a transfer from Missouri, will be pushed by redshirt sophomore Kevin Bullock. True freshman Scott Herfel will challenge here or at 118.

134- Two-time letterman junior James Guzzio, a high school All-American and Connecticut state champion, comes off a redshirt year. He will feel a strong challenge from sophomore Shane Mack, who earned third place in the ACC last year. Other contenders include junior James Pascarella and sophomore Ryan Abbott.

142- Returning two-time letterman Jeff Whalen should be the favorite here if he is not redshirted. Strong contenders are former Maryland state champion Marty Margolis, sophomore James Falcone and sophomore George Mason transfer Justin Totten.

150- A battle will form here as two former high school All-Americans and state champions go head-to-head for the slot. Returning letterman junior Brent Layman and junior Arash Alizadeh, a letterman at 167 lbs. last season, will compete for the job. Ted Harlan, who returns from injury redshirt, as well as freshmen John Harper and Mike Tomaino may challenge.

158- Pat Flynn, returning letterman and ACC Champion at 150 lbs. last season will move up. Flynn, an NCAA qualifier last year and former Maryland state champion, will be challenged by freshman Chris Brodmerkel.

167- Returnee Chris DeVito will get his top challenge from redshirt sophomore Gary Novello. Brent Layman or Arash Alizadeh may challenge here.

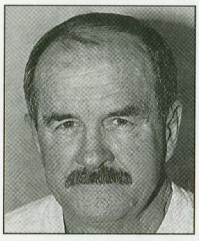
177- The top contender here will be sophomore Craig Garrison, with pressure from John Latino, a transfer from George Mason University.

190- Veteran Brian Layman, a former Maryland state champion and high school All-American is the favorite to start here. Freshman Don Kukan may contend.

HWT- Anchor position here will be held by two-time letterman David Vernier. Vernier was a Maryland state champion in high school and finished third in the ACC in 1995. Jule Dolci should challenge, as well as Paul Babbington and Paul Fitzmaurice, both formerly of nearby DeMatha High School.

TERP LEADERSHIP

John McHugh
Head Coach



The 1995-96 wrestling season will be John McHugh's seventeenth season as head coach of the Maryland Terrapins.

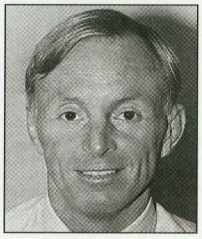
Coach McHugh first came to Maryland as a student from Glenside, Pa. where he was the Pennsylvania state champion at Cheltenham High School. At Maryland, McHugh was twice an Atlantic Coast Conference champion and served as a student assistant under legendary coach William "Sully" Krouse. McHugh graduated from the University in 1959. Following his service as Captain in the United States Marine Corps, McHugh served as head coach at two other universities. He coached at Catholic University for four years and at American University for three. When McHugh took over the program at Catholic, the Cardinals had not won a match in four years. His last team there was 6-3. American University had lost 40 consecutive meets before McHugh took over. He ended the streak in his first meet as head coach.

From 1969 to 1977, McHugh was back at Maryland, serving as an assistant coach under Krouse. In 1977, he became associate head coach and in the fall of 1978, was named the head coach of the University of Maryland wrestling team, only the second coach in the history of the University.

In his seventeen years as head coach, McHugh has compiled a record of 192-107-7, 42-40-1 in the ACC. The Terps have ranked nationally in the top 25 in at least four of those seasons. In 1990 and 1993, McHugh was honored as the Coach of the Year of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The wrestling team's success is attributed to McHugh's beliefs in mental toughness and attitude. McHugh stresses academics and his wrestlers are always academically strong. McHugh's wrestlers are sure to bring that mental strength to the mat, with attitude and discipline.

In 1995, Coach McHugh was inducted into the National Wrestling Hall of Fame with a Lifetime Service Award for coaching.

Curt Callahan
Assistant Coach



A two-time ACC Champion, Curt Callahan is in his 17th year as an assistant on the Maryland wrestling coaching staff. In addition to working with the Terrapin grapplers, Callahan is the Director of Facilities for the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Callahan came to the University after finishing as the runner-up in the Pennsylvania State Championships at the 138-pound division in 1966. He continued his standout wrestling when he arrived at Maryland, winning two ACC titles. Twice he won the East Stroudsburg Open, considered one of the toughest tournaments in the country.

His junior year saw a 22-1 record - with the lone loss coming against that year's NCAA Champion and later Olympic gold medal winner Dan Gable.

Upon graduation from Maryland, Callahan became very active with the United States Olympic Team. In both 1972 and 1976 he was ranked fourth nationally at 149.5 lbs. in Greco-Roman style wrestling. In 1976 he competed in the Olympic Trials, narrowly missing a spot on the Olympic Team.

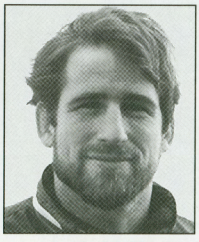
Kevin Kearns
Assistant Coach

Another Terrapin letterwinner, Kevin Kearns, enters his 13th season as an assistant on the Terrapin staff. Kearns wrestled at 150 lbs while a student at the University in the early 1970's. Following his second season, he was drafted into the United States Army where he served two years.

Upon his completion of military duty, Kearns returned to the Maryland wrestling program. While receiving his bachelors degree in physical education, he helped with the wrestling program. He then left for the Midwest after he received his degree to train with and wrestle for the United States Greco-Roman team.

Kearns was named head coach at Johns Hopkins University in 1977, where he served until 1981, when he joined the Maryland staff as an assistant coach.

Andy McNerney
Assistant Coach



Andy McNerney has been the Terps' volunteer assistant coach for the past seven seasons. McNerney was a 1983 graduate of Harvard where he was an NCAA All-American at 142 lbs. Since graduating, he has won the prestigious Wilkes Open three times (1984, 1986 and 1994) and he recently took the crown at the Midlands Tournament in 1994. McNerney is in private business in the D.C. area.

WELCOME TO MARYLAND

The University of Maryland at College Park – Choosing Quality

These are great days at the University of Maryland at College Park. The University, through an act of the state legislature, has been designated offically as the state's flagship campus with a mandate to become one of the nation's leading public universities. The effect of the mandate is for individuals from all corners of the university to aspire toward excellence, to think great thoughts and to become immersed in an educational enterprise of the highest caliber. There is an unmistakable momentum for change and a sense of heightened expectation at College Park — Maryland is choosing quality.

The faculty has enthusiastically endorsed a new general education program that began in the fall of 1990. It is a blueprint for comprehensive changes in the undergraduate experience at Maryland. The campus is reducing its undergraduate enrollment, improving the ratio between faculty and students, raising admissions standards, revamping the University Honors Program, strengthening the advising system, supporting expanded undergraduate research and encouraging innovations in teaching.

We invite you to take a closer look at the University of Maryland, its extensive academic programs, faculty, research facilities, student activities, support services, resources and opportunities. See for yourself the number of different ways in which Maryland is choosing quality.

Locale

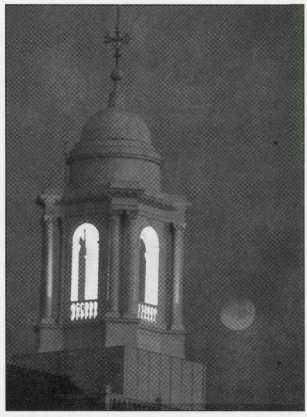
The state of Maryland is unrivaled in its scenic beauty, its rich heritage and its wealth of educational, recreational and cultural opportunities. From the mountain passes of Garrett County in the West, to the sand dunes of Assateague Island on the Eastern Shore and the cosmopolitan excitement of Baltimore and Washington, D.C., there is an unparalleled variety of experiences and resources available to students at the University.

Less than nine miles from the nation's capital, the University of Maryland at College Park is within easy reach of the country's best research facilities. The Library of Congress, the National Archives, the Smithsonian Institution and the National Libraries of Agriculture and Medicine are among the many unique resources in the area.

In addition to traditional scholarly resources, the campus is surrounded by the dynamic cultural opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide. The Kennedy Center alone houses the National Symphony Orchestra, five performance stages, an opera company and the American Film Institute. In Baltimore, one of the great ports of the world, a recent and remarkable renaissance has added the glistening touch of office towers and hotels to the quaint shops and ethnic restaurants of its many colorful neighborhoods. Harborplace and the National Aquarium anchor the Inner Harbor, which has become a cultural magnet for thousands of tourists each year.

Not far from any point in the state is evidence of the burgeoning development which has made Maryland a model for economic growth and fiscal health. High tech, engineering, and service industries thrive in proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of opportunities for work study or internships for students and career choices for graduates.

The University of Maryland at College Park, as the flagship campus of the state's higher education system, is a vital part of Maryland's current prosperity and its vision for the future. For students here, the state offers a bounteous extension to the campus' own wealth of opportunity.



Maryland by the numbers

3 miles are all that separate a College Park student from Washington, D.C. The Washington Monument is less than 10 miles away.

24 flavors of our own homemade ice cream, from our own home-grown cows, are available at the Campus Dairy in the Turner Building on Route 1 next to the Visitor Center.

25 locations on campus provide 446 PCs, plus CAD terminals and other computer-driven tools for study or research.

35 miles separate the College Park student from Baltimore and the Inner Harbor, one of the great riverfronts in the world.

78 RPM (rubs per minute) is the record high for one of College Park's oldest traditions. It happens during exams, and before football games, when hopeful students give Testudo and his Cole Field House twin rubs for good luck.

113 undergraduate majors are available at College Park.

186 stately columns grace the Georgian architecture of our major buildings, among them 40 residence halls providing rooms, suites, or apartments for 8,000 campus residents.

265 student organizations are registered on campus of which all students can participate.

325 classrooms and laboratories set the stage for learning; courses in 110 different major fields of study offer choices and specializations for every interest.

1589 acres of trees, malls and quiet corners make this campus a beautiful retreat and a self-contained city. With 300 buildings, four theatres, nine restaurants, banks, shops and recreation facilities, the College Park campus is a lively and cosmopolitan community.

3,000,000 books, journals, and magazines support students and research in College Park's library system.

4,600,000 items are on microfilm format in the campus libraries.
